

The Program

Polio survivors, their caretakers, spouses and friends can customize their experience by choosing from a menu of educational forums, exercise activities and fun. Healthcare professionals with experience working with polio survivors will provide information about Post-Polio and how it impacts individual conditions.

- Dr. Marny Eulberg will be our featured Post-Polio physician. Brief one-on-one consultations and group experiences will feature experts in physical medicine, an array of physical therapies, and exercise programs. Coaches will lead experiences in aquatics, Qigong, and navigating a handicapped accessible climbing wall and zip-line. Information sessions will include, among others, bracing, pain management, lifestyle safety, and end of life planning. Up to 40 activities and information sessions that campers can choose from over the three days. Wheeled mobility devices will be available for use.

- Enjoy daily educational sessions with the professionals and during breakout sessions, network with your peers. Meet new friends, enjoy the Rocky Mountain air.

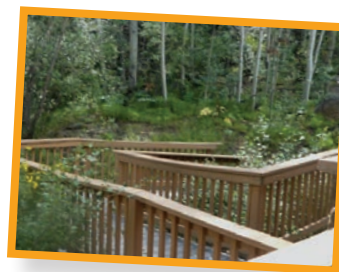

The Location

The spectacular Easter Seals Rocky Mountain Village is fully handicap-accessible. Plentiful paths and walkways for exploring are paved, wood, or packed gravel for easy wheelchair access. On site lodging options include a limited number of rooms with queen-sized beds, a limited number of rooms with a private bath, shared rooms with use of lower bunk beds and shared baths. The camp has hospital beds for those needing adjustable bed height, or electrical hook-ups for bringing an RV. Off-site lodging is available in nearby towns. The dining hall serves three meals a day.

The Getaway location is 8,000 feet above sea level with warm days and cool nights. To minimize high-altitude sickness and any respiratory complications, we suggest a night or two in Denver to acclimate to the higher altitude. And before and during your stay – hydrate, hydrate, hydrate!
