

Rural Solutions

For many farm family members and rural residents with a disability, Rural Solutions represents their only hope of returning to farming and their communities.

Easter Seals Iowa offers agricultural work site and home modification consultations, peer support, services for the family, information and referrals and medical equipment loan services. Team members are knowledgeable about resources throughout the state that can address the unique needs of rural family members with disabilities, and actively pursue services that will enhance their lives.

Any farm family member with a disability or individual with a disability living in a town with a population less than 2,500 is eligible for services through the Rural Solutions program. Easter Seals Iowa Rural Solutions services are provided free of charge to the individual and family receiving the services.

After a snowmobile accident, Adam knew he wanted to continue farming and says he wouldn't be able to live the life he has now without the support of Easter Seals Iowa. Adams says, "Easter Seals Iowa gave me all the independence back that I could get, so I can do the things that I love to do. I didn't have to give up. I could keep going and live life normally."
