

MAKING A DIFFERENCE

Fall 2016

Introducing a fresh look for a bright future!

A new logo and refreshed name are unveiled, just in time for our 70th anniversary.

A new logo, tagline and colors—plus a refreshed name—are all part of our revitalized Easterseals Rehabilitation Center! It's perfect timing to celebrate our 70th anniversary, show recent building renovations, and prepare for a bright future as a vital resource for local people facing the challenges of disability.

Our new logo features a burst of light, like rays of the sun, a symbol of warmth, hope and optimism. The circles represent people—staff, community, clients, families—coming together with a shared purpose. The logo uses warm, engaging colors and lower case letters in an open, accessible, personal style.

"Easterseals" is now one word, offering a new perspective for the future while building on our history.

A new tagline—"Taking on disability together"—links us to our cause and acknowledges that disability affects all of us. We're stronger together as we take on stigma, take on inequality, and take on the challenges of disability. Together, we'll enhance opportunities for all people to live, learn, work and play.

What hasn't changed? What's truly important about the Easterseals Rehabilitation Center remains the same—who we serve, why we're here, and the fact that no one is turned away due to inability to pay for therapy. With the community's ongoing support, we'll keep working to make significant, positive changes in local people's lives every day!

The Sol & Arlene Bronstein Lobby now welcomes clients and visitors. See page 3.

Life is an adventure for CLS client Mike Hudson. Community Living Services is Mike's partner on life's journeys.

Evansville native Mike Hudson lives a full, busy life in our community—when he's not jet-setting to another part of the country on one of his many adventures!

Mike was diagnosed with a mild intellectual disability when he was young. He has lived on his own since 1991, assisted by the Easterseals Rehabilitation Center's Community Living Services (CLS).

Mike loves to travel. He eagerly shares photos and stories of trips to New York, South Dakota, California, Washington D.C. and many other destinations. Mike's future aspirations include a trip to Hawaii and writing a book about his travel experiences.

A 20-year employee of Schnucks, Mike walks to work. But he relies on Community Living Services for transportation to appointments, errands, help with bill-paying and insurance paperwork, cooking tips, and group social activities.

CLS staff also assist Mike in arranging his trips. Asked if he gets nervous traveling alone, Mike is quick to share his philosophy on the subject: "If you don't get out there and try, you'll never know what you'll be able to do."

Mike credits CLS with helping him reach goals for independence.

"Things would be a lot different without them," he says. "They help me in a lot of ways."

Community Living Services are generally funded through the Indiana Medicaid Waiver. Support, training, and assistance may be Building improvements unveiled at 70th anniversary open house. Successful capital campaign is helping to “Ensure the Future.”

The Easterseals Rehabilitation Center welcomed the community to our 3701 Bellemeade Ave. location on Sept. 27. It was the first opportunity for many guests to see the impact of the “Ensure the Future” capital campaign.

Visitors learned about our services and toured renovated spaces for therapy, aquatics, therapeutic preschool, and other programs.

Guests enjoyed our remodeled client and family waiting area, now named the “Sol and Arlene Bronstein Lobby.” Permanent signage honors the memory of “This (open house) isn’t just about our building. It’s a way to celebrate the collective achievements of the many clients, staff members, board members, and supporters who have made—and continue to make—this life-changing work possible.”

-Kelly Schneider, President

this caring and generous couple. A major gift by the Sol and Arlene Bronstein Foundation—the lead donor to our “Ensure the Future” campaign—will make a difference in the lives of local individuals with disabilities for decades to come.

The open house was a festive celebration of Easterseals’ 70th anniversary and launched our new brand (story on page 1). It was also opening night for our first “Inspiration Through Art” exhibit, featuring works by local artists of all ages and abilities.

Above & upper left: Children from our Dan & Nancy Mitchell Therapeutic Preschool have fun AND benefit from new therapeutic activity modules in our renovated pediatric therapy gym every day! The gym is one of many client-focused improvements funded by generous donors to the “Ensure the Future” capital campaign.

Easterseals HOP-N-ING helps children develop understanding. Unique disability awareness program is available to elementary and preschool teachers.

Kids have fun at school and learn valuable life lessons with Easterseals HOP-N-ING! The week-long disability awareness program can be used by teachers any time during the school year, or year-round for preschool and other groups.

Materials include a curriculum guide and four dolls with disabilities. Their stories help students develop a better understanding of people with differing abilities.

Easterseals staff can present HOP-N-ING information to groups, classes, or in an assembly setting. Groups can also tour the Easterseals Rehabilitation Center to see how our services enable people with disabilities to live, learn, work, and play independently.

After learning about disabilities, children help to change lives and win prizes by collecting pledges for each hop completed during a 3-minute HOP-N-ING. Money raised provides therapy for local kids and adults.

If you are a teacher, parent or grandparent and want to get your school involved, call Alexandra Jarvis at 812.474.2348.

Special thanks to 2016-17 HOP-N-ING sponsors
