ANNUAL REPORT 2016

Easter Seals MA A Message from the President & CEO

2016 was a year of unprecedented change for Easter Seals Massachusetts. The biggest change being that it was the first time in 40 years that Kirk Joslin was not an employee, although, not surprisingly, he has continued to be one of our most loyal supporters. While this was the most visible change, the organization saw a combined 150 years of experience retire or alter positions over the last year alone.

Considering that the entire organization and our two largest divisions had new leadership, there could rightfully be concern over the transition and the well-being of Easter Seals MA. I know personally, I had and still have a lot to learn.

Fortunately for Easter Seals MA and our clients, this organization has always been one of strength on both the inside and out. Internally, the staff is made up of people who are driven by our core values of commitment, collaboration, integrity, and respect. Additionally, and equally important, we are incredibly fortunate to have our Board of Directors, donors, and volunteers who passionately believe in our mission and are excited to support it.

Because of this passion and depth of support, I am proud to share the Easter Seals MA Annual Report. 2016 was our strongest year to date. We continue to expand our services to new communities throughout Massachusetts. We have grown our existing programming and continue to develop new programs to meet unmet needs for people with disabilities.

Throughout these pages you will see some familiar faces and programs while you are introduced to some exciting new happenings. Our Assistive Technology Program continues to be a leader worldwide, while our new recreation programs are already getting people excited. Please note the landmark piece of legislation that passed around employment for people with disabilities in Massachusetts. Easter Seals MA has been on the front lines advocating for this bill for many years.

I hope you will enjoy this recap of the last year. There is a lot of excitement and innovation throughout the organization as the next generation begins to shape Easter Seals MA in new ways. However, while programs and services may adapt, everyone understands that we must remain true to our foundation. We will continue to be the leaders in providing services to ensure that children and adults with disabilities have equal opportunities to live, learn work, and play.

Sincerely,

Easter Seals MA Empowering Tomorrow's Leaders

Easter Seals MA Youth Leadership Network, supported by the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission, promotes self-advocacy and self-awareness for teens and young adults with disabilities ages 16 to 21 with opportunities for youth 14 to 26. This is a state-wide initiative with meetings and events held in Boston, Springfield, Worcester, and East Bridgewater. Youth Leadership Network is an opportunity for youth to make friends in their local communities and within the larger network group. Leadership comes in many different forms and Easter Seals MA helps Youth Leadership Network members figure out the type of leader they are.

Youth Leadership Network attended the Statewide Independent Living Council's Education Day at the State House. Youth leaders spoke about the importance of people registering to vote and helped the Independent Living Centers advocate to legislators on a variety of issues including the employment bill, assistive technology, and housing.

Easter Seals MA President & CEO Paul Medeiros and former youth leader and current Easter Seals MA Board Member Dominic Mondon-Poirier, along with representatives from Easter Seals affiliates across the country visited Capitol Hill to meet with elected officials and advocate for people with disabilities and their families.

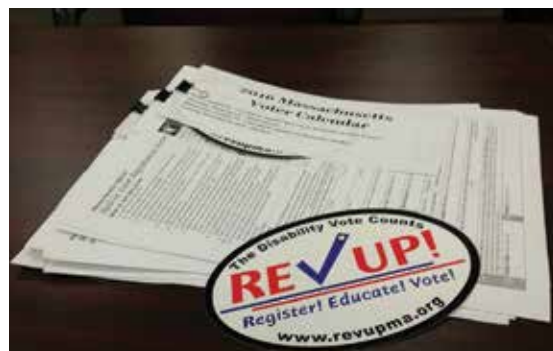

After MassHealth made changes to Personal Care Attendant (PCA) services that threatened to negatively impact the lives of people who use these services to live independently, Easter Seals MA Youth Leaders joined the rally at the State House to voice their opposition to the changes.

Youth Leaders joined TJX employees for a day of networking at TJX headquarters in Framingham. The youth met with management and executives from across several departments and learned about future career opportunities as well as what TJX is doing to ensure accessibility for all of their employees.

The Youth Leadership Network worked tirelessly this election cycle through REV Up and as a member of the Disability Voting Task Force to encourage people with disabilities to register to vote. Youth leaders gathered to create voter registration packets to encourage individuals to register, educate themselves on the issues, and vote. People with disabilities are under-represented at the polls and Easter Seals MA and REV Up want to increase the number of people with disabilities who vote.

Youth Leaders decided to define what disability culture means to them. After brainstorming throughout November they created a poignant video on disability culture, check out their video by visiting our YouTube page: YouTube.com/ESMAmedia.

Youth Leadership Network came together to cut jeans for Sole Hope, a nonprofit dedicated to combating diseases that enter through the feet, that will be used to create shoes to send to children in need in Uganda.

Easter Seals MA Programs and Services

Easter Seals Massachusetts provides essential programs and services to children and adults with disabilities throughout the state. In 2016 we are proud to report that we increased the number of cities and towns we serve by 5% which means Easter Seals MA now serves over 90% of the state. Our occupational, physical and speech therapists, assistive technology specialists, and youth, employment and transition teams are experts in their field and provide services in a wide range of settings. They are dedicated to ensuring that individuals with disabilities have equal opportunities to live, learn, work and play.

“Easter Seals MA not only expanded my life, but my children’s lives, too.”

Dawn Mendes

The Accessible Martial Arts Program is a new Easter Seals MA initiative created for people with and without disabilities who want to learn and practice self-defense, stretching, exercise, and relaxation techniques. Led by our very own President & CEO Paul Medeiros, we began piloting the program this past October and have enjoyed incredible success.

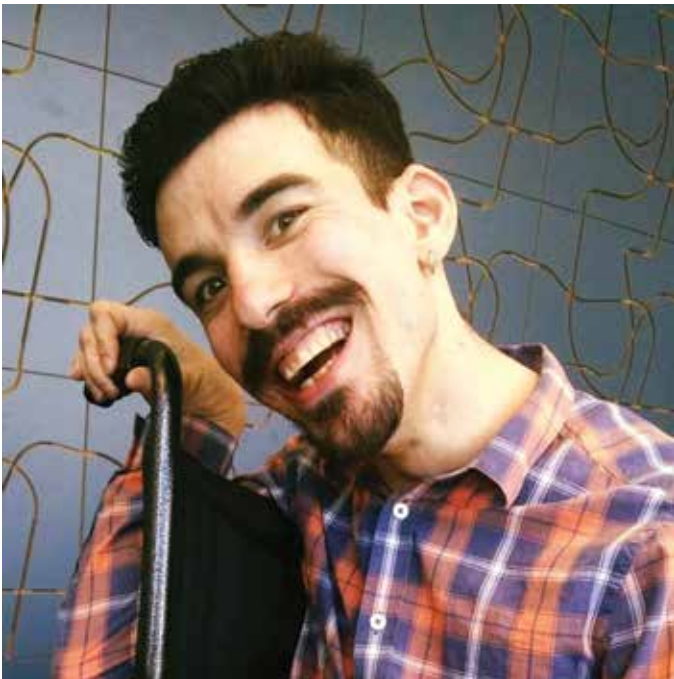

Easter Seals MA developed a new program, funded in part by Comcast, called A.R.C.A.D.E. (Adaptive Recreation, Community, Advocacy, Discovery and Empowerment) which offers accessible gaming technology for play and social opportunities, as well as discussions and workshops on topics such as: disability community, culture and history; employment skills and resources; independent living; leadership and empowerment; digital and financial literacy; and advocacy.

“William is super strong-willed, so he needed someone who would make him work—which is what he got.”

Ashley Doherty

In collaboration with the Massachusetts Rehabilitation Commission (MRC), MassHealth and other state health and human services agencies, Easter Seals MA provides AT evaluations and devices to help clients and staff live and work as independently as possible. Easter Seals MA is also proud to partner with MRC to manage the MassMATCH AT Regional Center in Boston, where we provide AT device demonstrations, short term device loans and financial loans.

Easter Seals MA Gives Back

Food captains: Michael Kenny, Director of Human Resources; Debbie Stevens, Executive Assistant to the President; Erica Moulton, Director of Marketing and Communications; and Patrick Remy, Youth Services Coordinator load the Easter Seals MA van with boxes of food.

Easter Seals Massachusetts participated in a month long food drive in November where nearly 500 items were collected and donated to The Friendly House located in Worcester.

“Having this technology has opened so many doors for me professionally and helped me enjoy the type of life I want to have.”

Easter Seals MA Community & Recognition

In 2016 President & CEO Paul Medeiros was honored by both the Boston Business Journal and the Worcester Business Journal, respectively, for their 40 Under 40 awards.

The Disability Law Center of Massachusetts and Boston Center for Independent Living invited Easter Seals MA Youth Services manager Desi Forte on Boston Neighborhood Network's Disability Connection to talk about Easter Seals MA youth programs.

Easter Seals MA President Emeritus Kirk Joslin was honored by MetroWest Center for Independent Living for his work in fighting for equal opportunities for people with disabilities. MWCIL presented him with an award for Achievement for Independent Living.

Thank you to Zach Campbell who was asked to complete a charitable project for his bar mitzvah and decided to undertake accessible gaming. Working with AbleGamers, Zach helped bring video game systems with adaptive technologies to the MassMATCH Assistive Technology Regional Center Boston operated by Easter Seals MA.

On October 27, in honor of National Disability Employment Awareness Month, Easter Seals MA was joined by Senator Barbara L'Italien, Representative James O'Day, the Boston Center For Independent Living, and members of the community who have been advocating for greater employment opportunities for people with disabilities, to celebrate the passing of the Economic Bill. This new legislation will require companies contracting with the Executive Offices of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to commit to hiring people with disabilities.

Easter Seals MA Youth Leadership Network Alum Victoria Conrad was recognized by the Disability Law Center for her leadership at the Henderson Inclusion School in Dorchester.

On National Philanthropy Day in November, Elaine Olson was honored by the Massachusetts Chapter of The Association of Fundraising Professionals for her incredible and generous support of Easter Seals MA.

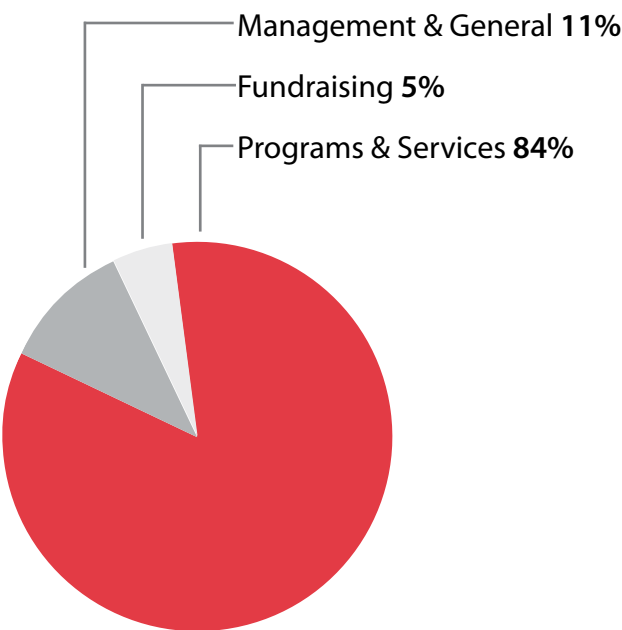

Easter Seals MA President & CEO Paul Medeiros was featured in the Boston Globe's Five Things You Should Know column written by Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Sacha Pfeiffer.

To honor and bid farewell to longtime President & CEO Kirk Joslin, Easter Seals MA hosted a roast with past and present clients, youth leaders, volunteers and donors on the dais for a night of comedy and gratitude.
