

Below are various resources related to disability history. If you have resources, you would like to suggest we add please let us know by emailing us at Youth@eastersealsma.org.

Easterseals Massachusetts #TeachDisabilityHistory Game Questions Create your own disability history game using the questions that are part of the #TeachDisabilityHistory Campaign Committee	https://docs.google.com/document/d/1xM91wtSVyd2Kq1XlZvA6ZqjloSTNZiZv/edit?usp=sharing&oid=108729625373869312061&rtpof=true&sd=true
Curriculum Reform to Equal Rights: K-12 Disability History Curriculum Reform to Equal Rights traces evolving struggles across two centuries by people with disabilities for necessary resources for life and work, services, and political and civil rights. The curriculum emphasizes evidence-based student investigation of policy, culture, media, social change, and activism, always emphasizing the actions, experiences, and voices of people with disabilities. Nearly 250 primary sources in 23 lessons support inquiry. The curriculum highlights opportunities throughout for students to participate in inclusive civic engagement projects. Lessons integrate with common content: reformers, impacts of wars, immigration, changing roles of government, social movements, and civic engagement.	https://emergingamerica.org/disability-history-curriculum
Curriculum The Great Fight for Disability History	Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education http://www.doe.mass.edu/frameworks/mcu/ https://www.storylinemotionpictures.com/the-great-fight-for-disability-rights
Documentary – Lives Worth Living Lives Worth Living is widely acknowledged as the “magnum opus” of disability rights history in documentary film. This hugely important civil rights history was almost lost, but charismatic leaders of the movement narrate the story of a long, hard, and successful drive for civil rights - a drive that brought together a once fragmented population into a powerful coalition that created some of the most far reaching civil rights legislation in our nation’s history.	https://www.storylinemotionpictures.com/lives-worth-living
Curriculum: Disability Equality Education created lessons to support understanding of disability and the end of stigma. All the content on this site has been either created or approved by disabled people.	https://www.disabilityequalityeducation.org/lesson-plans
Library of Congress - Disability Awareness Primary Source Set	https://www.loc.gov/free-to-use/disability-awareness/

This Free to Use set features people with disabilities throughout U.S. history—at work, at play, at school, and advocating for change. Note that these items were created during many different eras. Historical terminology on older collection items can include words considered offensive, but the original terminology also helps in understanding the context for the items' creation.
Smithsonian National Museum of American History - Disability History Exhibits	https://americanhistory.si.edu/explore/topics/disability-history
Disability Media: Longmore Institute - Disability Visibility Project	https://disabilityvisibilityproject.com/
Historic Sites: National Park Service	Disability History Series Introduction - https://www.nps.gov/articles/disability-history-series-introduction.htm Disability Rights Movement - https://www.nps.gov/articles/disabilityhistoryrights-movement.htm
Virtual Museum: Museum of disAbility History - Virtual disAbility History Museum	https://www.museumofdisability.org/virtual-museum/
Timeline: U.S. Department of Labor - Disability & Employment	U.S. Department of Labor - Disability & Employment: A Timeline https://www.dol.gov/agencies/odep/ada30/timeline
Disability Media: It's Our Story - Collections of, by, and for People with Abilities	https://www.itsourstory.com/
Online Collections: Disability History Museum - research or browse hundreds of items in this virtual museum.	https://www.disabilitymuseum.org/dhm/index.html
Online Collections: Disability History through Primary Sources - Emerging America keeps an online portal to curriculum, media, and collections of primary sources on disability.	https://emergingamerica.org/accessing-inquiry/disability-history-through-primary-sources
Stamps: Easterseals Stamps	https://postalmuseum.si.edu/exhibition/america%E2%80%99s-mailing-industry-industry-segments-nonprofit-organizations/easterseals
Puzzle: Historians have to piece clues together to learn about the past. Now it's your turn! Learn all about The 504 Sit-In, celebrating Disability History. Included are magnetic puzzle and backer board, clue key cards, age-leveled game instructions, and a reusable canvas bag. For young historians age 5 and up, our kid's puzzle games feature:	https://www.historicons.com/products/504-sitin?_pos=1&_sid=215f949ad&_ss=r
Map: The REPAIR Disability Heritage Collective strives to highlight place-based histories that have been neglected in our	https://www.repairhistory.org/

understanding of U.S. disability history, places that tell unexpected stories about disabled people's lives and experiences, and places that clearly illuminate disabled people's ongoing resistance to ableism. The collective has published an online map of these places.
Itty Bitty Bio books: - The ITTY BITTY BIO book series brings young readers inclusive stories that discuss disabilities in a comprehensive, honest, and age-appropriate way.	https://www.easterseals.com/news-and-stories/itty-bitty-book-series.html Ralph Braun - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53457 Jason Benetti - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53455 Judy Heumann - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53451 Anita Cameron - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53452 Vilissa Thompson - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53453 Alice Wong - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53456 Leroy Moore - https://cherrylakepublishing.com/shop/show/53454

To suggest additional resources please email us at Youth@eastersealsma.org.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
TEACHING WITH PRIMARY SOURCES
Consortium Member

Produced in part with Library of Congress Teaching with Primary Sources Eastern Region grant. Content created and featured in partnership with the TPS program does not indicate an endorsement by the Library of Congress.