

A Hope and Healing Workshop

Join Easterseals Arc and Hope Anew, a faith-based organization, for a weekend workshop focused on hope and healing.

Almost a quarter of U.S. households have a special needs child, leaving millions of parents with broken dreams, in a recurring cycle of crisis and grief, and wondering, "How do I move on when my child will never be 'normal'?"

Topics that will be discussed during the weekend workshop include:

- Why, God?
- Wounded hearts
- Grief and loss
- Guilt and forgiveness
- Healing hearts

Comments from parents about the workshop:

"What you are doing is so tremendously important. Families are desperate and so on the edge of giving up." ~ Emily

"There are no adjectives to describe the need for this." ~ Dave

"People don't have a clue...this would give you a group that has a clue." ~ Anonymous

"You hit a bulls eye with these topics." ~ Anonymous

Date/Time:

6:30–9 p.m. October 20

9 a.m.–4 p.m. October 21

(Breakfast and lunch will be provided on Saturday)

Location

Easterseals Arc
4919 Coldwater Road
Fort Wayne, IN 46825

Cost

- $50 per family
- Private pay, Medicaid Waiver, and other payment options are available

Registration/Questions

Contact Ashley Gettys

- 260-456-4534 ext. 279
- agettyes@esarc.org

Registration deadline is Oct. 6;
seating is limited

Need child care?

Contact Ashley Gettys to inquire about childcare for the event