Koalas' Treehouse, where infants 6 weeks to 17 months are provided secure, consistent relationships with care givers who encourage exploration through the use of enriching activities specifically designed to provide optimal development.

Doggies' Den, where children ages 18 months to 35 months receive warm, nurturing care and opportunities for positive relationships with peers to foster self-esteem and a strong sense of self efficacy.

Turtles' Cove where children ages 3-4 years participate in hands-on activities designed to build self-image, independence, and ability to make positive choices.

Armadillo's Dugout, our pre-kindergarten classroom for children ages 4-6, where the emphasis is on the development of social, academic, and problem-solving skills. These are the skills that provide the foundation for a successful transition into kindergarten while building a life-long love of learning.
