

A Place for Kids

June 22, 2017

Easterseals North Texas North Dallas Center is expanding from 6,000 square feet to 14,000 Square feet and will soon become home to one of the best Child Development Programs in North Texas. At our Child Development Center, a full Walden model replica, children spend time learning and playing together.

Jessie Whitesides, Child Development Program Director, describes the benefits of the program: "Our highly trained staff members create an environment where children of all abilities learn side by side.

All children gain academic and social skills needed for success in Kindergarten. Children learn how to cooperate with their peers, break difficult tasks into achievable steps, and how to help each other. And they have fun while doing so."

The program is now accepting enrollments for the fall schedule. For more information about our inclusive program, email ChildCare@ntx.easterseals.com or call 972-394-8900.
