

ROCKY MOUNTAIN VILLAGE CAMP

72 YEARS AND GROWING

Sports Court Renovation

For 72 years, Rocky Mountain Village (RMV) Camp has been a place for children and adults living with disabilities to connect with nature, find belonging, develop their social skills, and increase their self-esteem. Today more than ever, families and community organizations are drawn to RMV Camp to help them grow. Between summer camps, school groups, and community use of the facilities, RMV serves over 4,000 people a year and we are rapidly outgrowing our existing facilities. The focus of our current capital project is to rebuild the current Sports Court making it sustainable long-term.

While the sports court was maintained and resurfaced regularly over the years, due to the harsh weather environment of the mountains and being built on black top asphalt, the current state of it requires a total rebuild which includes:

- Removal of the existing sports court material
- Ground prep work
- 95 cubic yards of concrete and concrete work
- Finishing layer/Flatwork
- Painting of the court
- Newly installed tennis net

The sports court was built in the 1980's and is one of the favorite places for our campers to use. It serves as a multi-purpose outdoor enclosure that they enjoy using for multiple sports such as basketball, tennis, volleyball, as well as for other games and activities. The court is fenced off and is an ideal location and safe place for campers and counselors to participate in these activities. It is also used for a gathering spot, due to its central location for when camp runs emergency drills or other group gatherings. Invest today in RMV's future!
