Easter Seals New Jersey’s Be Well! & Thrive™ Health and Wellness Program Receives Grant from The Healthcare Foundation of New Jersey

Program Focuses on Improving the Health and Wellness of People with Disabilities

East Brunswick, NJ – Easter Seals New Jersey was recently awarded a grant of $42,813 by The Healthcare Foundation of New Jersey for its health and wellness initiative to improve the physical and mental wellbeing of people with disabilities.

Easter Seals New Jersey’s Be Well! and Thrive™ Health and Wellness Education program is designed to provide tools for Easter Seals’ program participants, their caregivers, and staff members of the organization to make healthy lifestyle choices. The goal is to achieve and maintain optimal physical, mental and emotional health, and increase longevity through proper nutrition, hydration and a balance of rest and physical activity.

The Healthcare Foundation of New Jersey seeks to elevate the quality of community healthcare, reduce disparities in access, and promote the infusion of compassion and humanism into our healthcare system.

Consisting of a 12-week series of workshops on nutrition, health, fitness, personal and oral hygiene, and ability-appropriate exercise classes, the Be Well! & Thrive™ Program aims to assist individuals with disabilities in making modifiable lifestyle changes.

“Individuals with disabilities are at a higher risk for chronic medical conditions, such as hypertension, diabetes, and cardiovascular diseases, which affect an individual’s quality of life, employability, and integration into their community,” says Laura O’Reilly, RN, assistant vice president of health and wellness at Easter Seals New Jersey. “However, few, if any, prevention efforts are inclusive for individuals with disabilities. And that’s where Easter Seals steps in.”

The inclusive exercise component of the program is also the first of its kind to be accredited by the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (ICE). What sets Be Well! & Thrive™ apart from other exercise programs is its adaptive approach to addressing the special needs of people with disabilities. The structured fitness class is based on a foundation of proper body mechanics in order to enhance participants’ abilities to perform activities of daily living, improve strength and endurance, and enhance overall well-being.

“The classes help me to feel confident,” says Finita, a participant of Easter Seals New Jersey’s adult day program for people with developmental disabilities. “And, when I feel confident, I believe I can accomplish anything.”

“The program – which launched early in 2011– has yielded tangible and measurable results,” adds O’Reilly. “Now, thanks to the generous grant provided by The Healthcare Foundation of New Jersey, this critically important program can have an even greater impact by being able to include more participants.”

In the next series of workshops, new educational materials will be introduced to implement health strategies for preventing metabolic health conditions including obesity, diabetes and heart disease.
