

taking on disability together

May, 2018

Dear Easterseals North Texas Families,

On behalf of our Board of Directors, I would like to share some exciting news about Easterseals North Texas' future. In order to better serve you, we have joined with another agency that will support our back office infrastructure including HR, IT, and Finance. The name of the company is Fedcap—a not-for-profit founded in 1935. In FY 2017, Fedcap's educational, vocational training, job placement, post placement support, and advocacy services helped almost 200,000 individuals rebuild their lives and build a pathway to long-term economic well-being.

For you, the families we serve, you will experience no difference to the services you receive. We will still be Easterseals North Texas with the same brand and program staff. The benefits of the combination will be most noticeable in our back-office infrastructure and support, which in turn, will enhance our services.

As we begin the transition planning, we wanted to first inform our internal stakeholders, including our clients and families. We will roll out communication with our external stakeholders over the coming months, and we anticipate the combination will go into effect on July 1, 2018.

I believe this combination brings a breadth of opportunity that we can only imagine and we remain committed to you and our mission of helping individuals living with disabilities and their families.

Sincerely,
